

Cost of one model time step relative to the standard scheme, each mesh at a node count where the model still scales

